

BUFFALO By Bus

THE NO. 20 BUS GIVES YOU
PLENTY TO EXPLORE

It's never been easier to navigate our city using ridesharing and our light rail system along Main Street. But perhaps most useful — and hiding in plain sight — is the unofficial visitor shuttle of Buffalo, the number 20 Metro bus.

The No. 20 ties together several of Buffalo's most popular neighborhoods, including downtown, Allentown, the Elmwood Village and the Museum District. It shuttles passengers through the heart of the city on Elmwood Avenue and drops them within feet of top attractions, hotels and restaurants.

Purchase a $5-day pass at the Buffalo Metropolitan Transportation Center on Ellicott Street, head out to North Division and Ellicott to pick up the No. 20 (buses run between 15 and 30 minutes apart depending on the time of day). Get on and off to your heart's content. Or, hop on the bus from anywhere along Elmwood Avenue for a $2 one-way fare. Here are some of the top spots to visit, organized by stops along the route.
